Work Experience

SejoWebDev

Web Developer Freelancer [2023 Nov – Current]

- I have built modern and responsive web applications using best practices
- Built semantically structured full stack web applications

Recent Projects:

Sushiwoman – A responsive restaurant customers can visit Sushiwoman's website to easily find out what is the restaurants most popular sushi dishes and drinks are, in making their order simpler especially if they are new in town like tourists.

Statistics South Africa

Census Enumerator [2022 Dec – 2022 Apr]

Enumerators visits households to collect data. This was done through in-person interviews and online surveys.

I also assisted newcomers with utilizing the software and guided them on how to conduct the interviews

Gallerist

National Arts Council [2021 Aug – Present]

I had the opportunity to host and promote local artists in Nelson Mandela Bay, providing them a platform to recover from the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. The event featured food and art for sale, as well as art supplies giveaways, catering to both art enthusiasts and those interested in learning to draw or play a new instrument.

Luthando – Luvuyo Special School

Teachers Assistant [2020 Nov – 2021 Apr]

I supervised students in the classroom, during break time, and accompanied them to their school bus. I assisted the teacher with daily attendance, read with students, and worked individually with them to improve their performance. I also printed out classwork, collaborated with professional staff and administrators, and volunteered in the kitchen, utilizing my background in Culinary Arts.
